

Ruxton Chest Packs - Specifications

Description

The Ruxton Chest Packs are designed for field users of tablet computers. All three sizes of the Ruxton pack are sold attached to the Comox Harness. With the sides of the pack unzipped, the front folds down to support the tablet in portrait or landscape. This system provides users with a secure, comfortable, and ergonomic way to fully utilize the capabilities of their tablet computer. Users can customize the pack by changing the front to add pockets and/or high visibility orange front covers. Adding a variety of pouches and holsters to the Comox Harness further enhances the versatility of the system.

Features

Ruxton Pack

- Protects the tablet computer with a padded main compartment.
- Unzip the sides of the pack to fold down the front and support the tablet in portrait or landscape for viewing and data entry.
- Uses the patented Fidlock® magnetic-assisted buckles to secure the tablet to the chest pack and quickly release the tablet from the pack as necessary.
- The Fidlock® buckle is secured to the back of most tablets with hook and loop fabric – alternatives are available.
- Highly durable nylon fabric.
- Removable front covers allow users to change the colour from black to orange and/or add pockets.
- Available in three sizes to accommodate tablets with up to 13-inch screens.

Comox Harness

- Fits almost any user – from 5' to 6'6" (152 to 198 cm) tall.
- Uses tough plastic staves to secure the Ruxton Pack and other available accessories. Weave the staves between alternating rows of webbing on the Comox Harness and compatible accessories.
- Eliminate loose webbing ends with hook and loop webbing keepers.
